EDWARD B. FORT
Chancellor

To The Editors Of AYANTEE:

There is no more important activity for enhancing school spirit and capturing for posterity many pleasant memories and friendships than publication of the university yearbook.

In well chosen photographs and in narrative are reflected the quest of A&T State University for continuing excellence, especially as it relates to the quality of life for our students.

I want to congratulate the dedicated staff members of the AYANTEE for their willingness to labor in the vineyard of superb production, using strategies designed to insure that this yearbook compares favorably with those of the past.

I know that this publication will serve as an inspiration for the students as they leave the hallowed grounds of Aggieworld for exciting careers and accomplishments. You are challenged to hold the A&T banner high wherever you go, as did our late beloved Astronaut, Dr. Ronald E. McNair, who not only carried with Aggie Pride his love and loyalty for the University from Dare to Cherokee, but to the outer edges of eternity.

It is my fervent hope that as we continue as a family to work together, we can perpetuate all that makes this university one of the finest along the Eastern Seaboard. We can meet admirably all of the challenges of today's society, as well as face the future with confidence and determination. My continuous role as A&T's leader will be to insure that we have, on this campus, the resources and personnel equipped to meet these challenges. You will also be undergirded by an outstanding faculty and staff, an important ingredient for accomplishing our goals.

Again, we congratulate you and your colleagues for the contribution which you make in relationship to the well being of this historically great University.

Sincerely,

Chancellor

On November 17, 1911 sacred to all Omega Men, the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc. was founded on the campus of Howard University. Founders of this first Greek college campus were Edgar A. Love, Oscar J. Cooper, Frank L. Patterson, and Charles H. Johnson. The fraternity was founded with the belief that "Friendship is the basis of all good things." This became the fraternity motto. The cornerstones of Omega Psi Phi are Manhood, Scholarship, Perseverance, and Service. The fraternity has grown from the Mother Chapter, Alpha, at Howard University to include chapters at over 100 colleges and universities, and undergraduate chapters throughout the United States, and collectively claim nearly 60,000 Omega men.

History And Purposes:

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia began with an invitation to a get-acquainted reception at Boston's New England Conservatory in the fall term of 1898. From this group of men a club was formed. This club accepted the suggestion of the newly-elected Director of the Conservatory, George W. Chadwick, that the group adopt the name of an organization of which he had been a member during his student days in Leipzig. SINFONIA was born.

The fraternity has grown far beyond the dreams of a few men in Boston. Its significant influence upon the musical life of America cannot be measured. But so long as there are those who believe in music and the brotherhood of musicians, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia will flourish and make significant and lasting contributions to the cause of music in America.

"I HAVE A DREAM"

I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character.

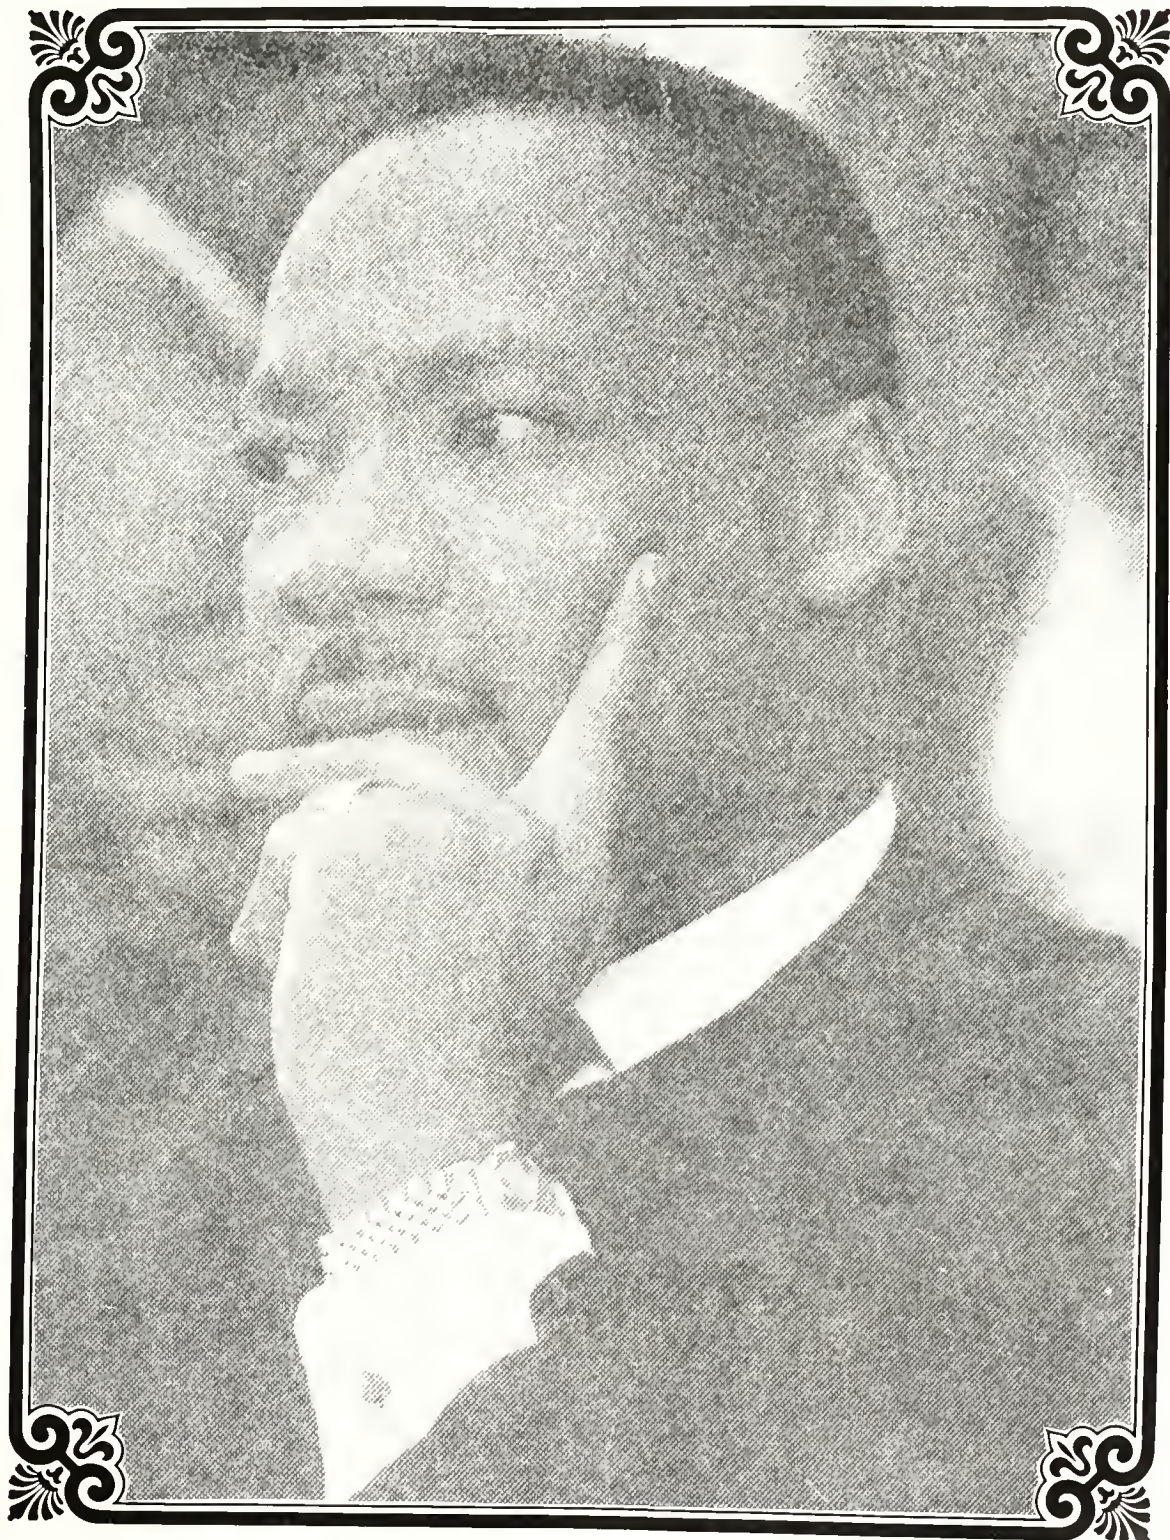

I have a dream today.
I have a dream that one day . . .

little black boys and black girls will be able to join hands with little white boys and white girls and walk together as sisters and brothers . . .

When we let freedom ring, when we let it ring from every village and every hamlet, from every state and every city, we will be able to speed up that day when all God's children, black men and white men, Jews and Gentiles, Protestants and Catholics, will be able to join hands and sing in the words of that Old Negro spiritual, "Free at last! Free at last! Thank God almighty, we are free at last!"

FRANKLIN H. WILLIAMS, President of the Phelps-Stokes Fund, an operating foundation concerned with the advancement of educational opportunities for American minorities and Africans, began his career as assistant to Thurgood Marshall, the Special Counsel to the NAACP. Successfully passing the New York bar examination before graduation from Fordham University School of Law, he was appointed to the position upon receipt of his J.D. in 1945. Concentrating on military and criminal cases, he became the first NAACP staff assistant to appear before the U.S. Supreme Court where he successfully won reversals of death sentences of several black youths unjustly convicted for capital crimes. One case involving three Florida youths convicted on a charge of rape and tried in a highly emotional atmosphere was reported by Ted Poston, a noted black journalist, who earned the Heywood Broun Award for Journalism with his New York Post series depicting the tension and terror to which the attorneys were subjected.

In 1959, Williams was appointed Assistant Attorney-General of the State of California where he established the first Constitutional Rights Section of any State Department of Justice in the Country. As Chief of that Section he forced the Professional Golfer's Association to admit black membership—an action which effectively removed racial bars preventing black participation in PGA tournaments.

After John F. Kennedy's election, Williams was called to Washington to assist Sargent Shriver in organizing the U.S. Peace Corps. He and Shriver traveled around the world consulting with heads of state in 9 countries before volunteers were sent overseas. He was the first Black to be appointed an Ambassador to the U.S. Mission to the U.N.
